Greetings

I'm Debra Isaacs Schafer and for 30 years, my focus has been on work/life integration. Working mothers. Workplace flexibility. Family-aligned benefits. Caregivers in the workplace. As a working mother, consultant, strategist, advisor, speaker and recognized thought leader, I understand the difficult choices facing working mothers today.

A bit more about me...Human Resources Director at PricewaterhouseCoopers, Founder/CEO of Education Navigation, LLC, a nationally-recognized firm providing specialized employee benefits for working parents, and Founder/CEO of Work/Family Management, Ltd., a work/life consulting firm and its division, Professional Mothers, a first-to-market job-matching service focusing on flexible work options. I have the insights into the issues facing employers and the conflicts facing working mothers to understand and address both perspectives.

The lives of professional working mothers have never been more complex and intertwined. If you're thinking about leaving your job, workplace or the workforce, I can help. I'll pull up a chair and listen. Then we'll get to work.

YOUR LIFE. YOUR CAREER. YOUR DECISIONS. LET'S TALK.
